

Christian Hermetic Astrology: The Star of the Magi and the Life of Christ By Robert Powell

Who were the three wise men and what was the Star of the Magi that led them to Bethlehem? Using the dialogue form Christian Hermetic Astrology explores these questions and the basis for the inauguration of Star Wisdom. Set in the Temple of the Sun where Hermes the Egyptian sage gathers with his three pupils Tat Asclepius and King Ammon these discourses focus upon the path of Christ culminating in the Mystery of Golgotha. With Rudolf Steiner and Anne Catherine Emmerich pointing the way Robert Powell has produced a book through independent research and careful study intended as a contribution to a modern path of the magi leading to a Christian wisdom of the stars. A parody? A clever imitation? Perhaps I've stumbled onto genuine Gnosticism. It seems Jesus would not raise Lazarus until the new moon when the sun moon and earth were properly conjoined so the soul could transition from the cosmic to the earthly rely. The author wishes to connect the wisdom of Egypt to Zoroaster Pythagoras and the Magi to the Christ Impulse. The opening invocation depicts Hermes with Tat and Asclepius and King Ammon invoking Michael Gabriel Raphael and Uriel, There is a tablespoon of what we might recognize as Evangelical truth embedded in gallons of unrecognizable star-gazing gibberish. It was under this powerful configuration that Lazarus returned to earth. The chronology of Christ's life compared to Zodiacal procession on pg 200-204 is curious and would perhaps even be interesting if it be true: Christian Hermetic Astrology: The Star of the Magi and the Life of Christ

. It was for this alignment that Jesus Christ waited. At the same time Venus and Uranus were in exact conjunction. (p107)
